

Learning for Inclusive Transformation

2018 Youth Retreat

Inspiring and empowering the next generation of social change agents

Are you a high school student in the Battle Creek area who is interested in learning more about social justice, community action, and social change? Join us for our fourth annual youth retreat to experience:

- building relationships across schools
- workshops on racial equity and other social justice issues
- developing critical thinking and leadership skills
- team-building activities
- free time at the waterfront
- a campfire, and more!

WHEN

August 24-26, 3:00 p.m. Friday – 12:00 p.m. Sunday

WHERE

Sherman Lake YMCA (We will meet at KCC and bus to Sherman Lake.)

Accommodations: Youth will stay in cabins. An adult mentor/chaperone will be assigned to each cabin. All meals are included; dietary needs can be accommodated.

COST

$50 Includes meals, overnight stay, and a t-shirt. Cash or check payment is due on or before Friday, August 24. (Checks can be made out to Kellogg Community College.) We also accept PayPal at the time of registration. We offer scholarships, so please don't let cost be a barrier.
